The Specific Research Institute of Canada and it's new branch, the Feral Bureau of Instigation, the FBI; a creation of artists on the west coast of Canada is a think tank and actualization center for new creativity in the arts . This current research project aims to identify areas of public perception and attitudes towards art that may be useful in planning new works. Those completing this response form will be awarded an FBI membership card, and encouraged to join the growing international art task force for the transformation of the world.
